

Public Comment Rules

- You must register in advance in order to speak publicly. Please provide your name and address at the sign-in table.
- Your comments will be limited to three minutes to give everyone present the opportunity to speak. A time clock will be visible from the speaker's position. You will be notified when your time is up and asked to summarize.
- All comments will be recorded by a court reporter and entered into the public record.
- You will be assigned an approximate time-slot for your public comments at sign-in. Speakers will be called to speak publicly in the order in which they signed in.
- You will be expected to speak publicly at the time your name is called. If you are not present or ready, your time will be forfeited and you must reregister for an available time slot.
- You will be required to state your name and address at the beginning of your public comments so it can be entered into the public record.
